Countless Persons Forced To Work In Soviet Uranium Mines

DREAD OF GERMANS

Fear Assignment Which Takes Them On Train In Early Morning Hours

In this fourth article of a series describing life under Russian rule in Eastern Germany today, Richard Well tells of the slave-like existence of some 60,000 Germans forced to work in the Soviet uranium mines. Well, Chief of the International News Service Bureau in Berlin, travelled for five days through the Soviet Zone, posing as a business man, to obtain at first hand the details of exactly how the Soviets are operating behind the closely-guarded curtain they have established across Eastern Germany.

(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Feb. 3 — (INS) — In the early, dark hours of the morning, long trains puff slowly out of Zwickenau for a destination whose very mention is the dread of every German living under Russian domination.

Aboard the trains, packed into unheated and unlighted wooden coaches, are the workers in the Soviet uranium mines. They are bound for Aue, a death city of tents and barracks—the heart of Russia's vast search for atomic ore in central Europe.

Approximately 60,000 Germans are employed in the mines, radiating from Aue over an area of some 700 square miles.

Some of the workers are volunteers, who have succumbed to the promise of steady work and extra rations.

Others are non-communists, unable to find jobs, whom the local offices have classified as "unemployed" and have assigned to the mines.

But most of the 60,000 are virtually slave laborers, prisoners without identity.

Advocates 2 Morning Protestant Services

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 3 — A local clergyman, the Rev. Clifford G. Pollock, advocates, in an article appearing in a church magazine, the holding of two worship services on Sunday mornings in Protestant churches.

The Rev. Mr. Pollock points out that since the addition of a 9 a. m. service, along with the usual 11 o'clock worship period, in his church that increase in attendance has resulted. Previous to having two services on Sunday morning, attendance averaged from 42 to 46 per cent of the congregation. Now, the average attendance is 53 per cent of the congregation, the minister disclosed.

In his article, the Rev. Mr. Pollock says that two services Sunday morning gives everyone a chance to attend. Some families are unable to make the 11 o'clock service because of care of small children, sickness and other reasons. The dual service gives the congregation a chance to attend either one and thus not conflict with home conditions that would otherwise make it impossible for them to attend if only one service was offered.

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Among the matters taken into consideration at the meeting of the Tinticum Township Improvement Association, at Erwinna, on Friday, evening, were transportation and the election of road supervisors and school directors.

The meeting, attended by about 30 persons and in charge of the president, William Jefferson.

In view of the fact that the terms of two road supervisors and two school directors expire, the members were urged to be on the look-out for good candidates and to contact their committeemen and committeewomen. It is important it was said, that persons interested in roads and schools be put into office.

The matter of trying to provide bus transportation for children in outlying districts in order that they may attend basketball games and other school affairs was given consideration. Suggestion was made that if possible one of the school buses be used for this purpose.

Another objective of the association is to get a suitable place for the children to hold basketball practice. William Covington was named chairman of a committee to find a suitable location.

A voluntary executive committee composed of Mrs. William Covington, Hiram Beer, Mrs. Carl Bond, Mrs. William Goulding and Joseph Leer will attempt to raise funds, boost the membership and provide entertainment at the meetings.

The next meeting will be held at Tinticum on Feb. 10.

EDDINGTON, Feb. 3—Little Robert Fisher, who is ill with pneumonia, was taken to Nazareth Hospital, Phila., yesterday by Bucks Co. Rescue Squad.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Premier Stalin, saying that his physicians objected to "any long journey, especially by air or sea," invited President Truman to confer with him in Russia, Poland or Czechoslovakia. He extended this invitation in a telegram to an American newspaper man who had informed him that President Truman had said he would be glad to meet the Soviet Premier in Washington.

Saying that President Truman was not going "half way around the world" again to meet Premier Stalin behind the Iron Curtain, Secretary of State Acheson indicated that the invitation was an "international political maneuver." No official communication has come to this country, he said, and he emphasized that United States policy was not to engage in "peace" talks in which other interested nations did not participate. British reaction was quick and cool.

Istvan Barankovics dissolved his opposition Democratic People's party and fled Hungary in defiance of Communist orders to keep the party alive and to condemn Cardinal Mindszenty, whose trial for treason opens in Budapest today.

GOD HATES A COWARD

(The editorial which is reprinted below has attracted more attention than any other recent political comment. It was published in the Omaha, Neb., Evening World-Herald on January 26, 1949, on the eve of the recent Republican National Committee meeting in that city.)

That's gospel truth. If any witness were needed to attest it the Republican Party of 1936-1948 would more than suffice. For 12 years the Republican Party has been a coward; the worst kind of coward—a moral coward. In consequence it begins to take on the appearance of something the cat dragged in.

It is hard to define an entity the Republican Party or any other large group of people, since however closely banded together all cannot think alike in all respects. But, speaking broadly, the Republican Party consists of men and women who in firm conviction are opposed to the swift trend toward the omnipotent state that is sweeping over every section of the earth. Whether it be defined as communism, fascism, socialism, totalitarianism, statism, the New Deal, the Insurance State, these men and women regard it as a thing of infinite menace, however, cunningly disguised, and however ardently supported by good but misguided people.

But the Republican Party has lacked the courage to say what its rank and file believe. Out of hunger for the flesh pots it has lacked the patriotism, the loyalty, to stand up for the free Republic of the founding fathers and to fight for it. Due to that lack of moral courage, of loyalty to the American creed, the United States, almost the sole remaining bulwark against the advancing tide, finds itself without a spokesman, without a champion to proclaim and battle for its traditional, glorious creed. And it finds the once-so-firm foundations of its temple crumbling.

The fact is known of all men. Here too, in our own America, the State is taking control and ownership of the people. It is using the power to tax to destroy their independence and self-reliance. It is converting free men into vassals and dependents. It is devouring the substance of

SUES A BROADCASTING COMPANY FOR $7,500

In Another Suit in Court Morrisville Woman Seeks Damages

IN SUM OF $10,000

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 3 — Two suits one involving a claim for damages of $10,000, and one a suit for $7,500, have been filed in Common Pleas Court, here.

Claiming $10,000 damages, Rose F. Herzog, Trenton, N. J., has named John Burns, Morrisville, the defendant in an action in trespass.

The plaintiff, who is a saleswoman in a Morrisville five and ten cent store and lost 20 weeks of work for which she is asking $500, slipped and fell on an icy pavement Feb. 11, 1948, in front of the defendants' property. She suffered a broken leg.

She claims $5,000 for injuries to her leg, another $5,000 for pain, anguish and discomfort, and $150 for a physician's bill as well as loss on wages amounting to $500.

Francis E. Streit and Verna S. Hardin, trading as Morrisville Broadcasting Company, South Penna. ave., Morrisville, have been named the defendants in an action in assumpsit by Franklin O. Pease.

The suit, which involves $7,500 with interest from July 24, 1947, grows out of a radio deal. The suit was served on James Stoltz, treasurer of the Morrisville Broadcasting Company, and a Sheriff's return for Francis Streit indicated "not found."

SPLIT APPARENTLY DEVELOPING IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY OVER RECURRENT TEACHERS' PAY ISSUE, IT IS SAID

By Jack Ward
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3 — (INS) — A split apparently is developing today in the General Assembly over the recurrent teachers' pay issue.

Teachers, through the influential Pennsylvania State Education Association, are seeking a $2499 mandated minimum for classroom instructors in all classes of school districts.

Gov. James H. Duff in his budget message to the General Assembly pointedly steered clear of recommending new salary boosts for teachers. He explained that legislation enacted by the 1947 Assembly mandates increases in the form of annual increments.

These automatic increases will require an additional $22,000,000 in state support for the 1949-51 biennium.

Meanwhile, the first and thus far only teachers' pay bill has been introduced in the House by Rep. Delbert W. Dalrymple (R), Erie.

Dalrymple recommended a mandated minimum of $2299, in comparison with the higher figure sought by the PSEA. However, he also proposed a $299 annual increment for a span ranging up to 14 years for teachers with master's degrees.

Duff's hesitant attitude on teachers' salaries is in line with his oft-expressed opinion that local government must accept increased responsibility for education costs. In his message to the Assembly January 4, the Governor emphasized that "it is imperative that local communities accept the responsibilities of contributing substantially" toward education.

For the 1949-51 biennium, Duff said commonwealth school subsidies will hit a "required" $195,000,000, including a $34,620,024 increase

HEATED HIGHWAYS

When there is a bad winter in the North, anywhere in California to Maine, hundreds of men with plows, trucks and other equipment go into action to keep the main highways open. The cost of snow removal is enormous.

Heated highways, which will melt snow as fast as it falls, eventually may be the solution of the snow problem on at least the first sections of road in blizzard country. In Oregon, a highway department which would be particularly treacherous under icy conditions because of its dip and grade, is being equipped with electric heating units, each 18 inches wide, under the tire tracks of a six-lane highway for a distance of 500 feet. That's the equivalent of more than a quarter of a two-lane highway.

A thermostatic control turns electricity on when the temperature drops to 34 degrees and turns it off again when the temperature gets back up to 40 degrees. The per hour cost of operation is approximately $1. The highway has three lanes of "black" and three lanes of concrete. The Michigan department is particularly interested in ascertaining which is the cheaper to heat.

BUGGED MODERN LIVING

Biological as it may seem, the rugged western steer probably has less chance to survive a really blizzard today than his counterparts had back in the rugged mountains when, according to old legends, the shortgrass country experienced some of its worst blizzards.

Today human habitations, barns and shelters are closer together than they were 50 or 60 years ago. Today airplanes can cover snow-bogged ranges, fields and drop hay to maintain livestock.

But the menace to livestock to a man-made device, known as a fence. Before the rangeland was fenced, cattle sometimes drifted hundreds of miles in a blizzard at their backs and survived.

KEEPING ON THE MOVE

Dr. B. F. Davis, who knew a lot of the pioneer Wyoming stockmen, says it was not uncommon for cattle to drift down into Alaska from well up in Wyoming when caught in a blizzard, find their way blocked by a fence, they huddle together, and snow covers them completely. Often they suffocate, and ice sometimes stops them with icicles. If they are still in biting cold for any length of time, they are gone.

self-supporting people to render them self-supporting no longer, and to establish a condition of universal reliance upon the biased paternalism of a Great White Father—a "Father" corrupted and corrupting, since great power does corrupt and absolute power corrupts absolutely.

And the Republican Party has not dared resist the tide; it has gone along with it. Not out of conviction, but out of cowardice. It has not dared to be a Daniel; to have a purpose and to make it known. Its plea for votes has been the shameful one: Give us the offices, the power, and we'll give you as much of what we believe to be wrong as will the Democrats themselves.

Americans do not respond to any such appeal. They, too, hate a coward. They despise hypocrisy. They hunger for a leadership of good faith. They will accept a brave and fighting leadership tainted even with Pendergastism and absolutism rather than a leadership that crawls—and trails its flag.

What a wonderful thing it would be if the Republican National Committee meeting here in Omaha, if other constituted Republican leaders, could realize how desperately these United States need an honest and brave Republican Party—how true Republicans above all others hunger and thirst for it! A Republican Party to raise high the flag of a loyal opposition! Opposition not alone to a misguided and recreant Democratic Party here at home, but opposition tenacious and resolute, brave and unyielding, to all the monstrous wrong and error that today menaces freedom, self-reliance, the courage to adventure, human dignity, in every land and every clime.

How joyously, with what reborn hope, men and women of the ancient faith of this Republic would rally about such a standard! Proud of this they would be in victory. No less proud in defeat!

Surely, surely, it shall not be recorded by amazed historians of a later day, that when the black flag of Absolutism was raised back in the Twentieth Century, when the fate of all mankind was involved, there was nowhere, in any land, not even our own, an organized body of men and women who had the courage, the devotion, the wisdom, the loyalty to God who made men free, to challenge that foul intruder and to dedicate their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor, to driving him back into the Dark Ages whence he emerged!

Never has there been sounded such a call to service as rings today in the ears of the Republican Party. Never, for men and women of courage, of character, of conviction, has there been afforded such an occasion for rising to the heights of human devotion to imperishable ideals.

The Republican Party can keep on crawling ignominiously along the dusty trail of an order it abhors but shrinks from challenging. Or it can rise out of the dust of four merited defeats, stand erect and unafraid, proudly to take up the battle for all that free men prize.

Courage or cowardice? Loyalty or recreancy? Conviction or time serving? It is as simple as that, ladies and gentlemen of the Republican National Committee.

Inside Your Congress

Second Class Citizens

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

It is generally conceded that the President of the United States should get a raise in pay. But it is a special privilege of the smallest sort to give him $50,000 a year on which he pays no tax and for which he accounts to no one. It is called an "expense account" but it is a special privilege of the smallest sort to give him $50,000 a year on which he pays no tax and for which he accounts to no one.

Until this week, Mr. Truman got a salary of $75,000 which is taxable, and an expense account of $50,000 which he did not spend all of it, he returned the balance to the Treasury.

His taxable salary is now raised to $100,000; he keeps his old $50,000 expense account, and gets another one for $50,000, tax-free and not to be accounted for. The total is equivalent to a taxable income of around $300,000 or $1,000 a day.

You and I get tax exemptions for a wife or dependent children, or if we are in business, we don't pay taxes on legitimate business expenses. But we have to prove our exemption and expenses.

We have to account. But Mr. Truman does not. He is one of these unaccountable persons!

The Vice President—Mr. dear Alben Barkley—is dear too, for he gets, in addition to a new salary of $30,000, $10,000 tax-free and accounting-free. And the Speaker of the House, he also gets ten grand, free, plus $30,000.

So we have the Caste System in America. The upper class are those close to the throne. The lower classes are the rest of us who have to sweat it out in the steel mills, or in the coal mines, or milking cows.

In the days before the French Revolution of 1793, the favorites rode high and handsome, too. The nobility and the upper clergy were tax-exempt. The poor working stiff carried the load of royal extravagance a long time. Finally they "had enough", and old women whiled away their time knitting as heads rolled off the guillotine.

You should read about Louis XVI and his courtiers. Behind the Revolution was autocratic France with its synical abuses, profligacy, immortality and disregard for the rights of all but the governing class.

Well, Hitler's gang and Mussolini's musclemen got the notion, too. They were the elite, you understand. They got themselves fixed pretty with all kinds of loot for which they did not have to account.

The idea spreads. A year or so ago, Congressmen voted us to pay them a tax-free, accounting-free swindle-sheet of $2,500 per. Congressmen were entitled to an honest expense account. But if there is any honor left in government, all expense funds should either be spent to cover the legitimate costs of better public service or they should be returned. To hand a Congressman, 2,500 bucks, and give him the choice of not spending it in the more efficient running of his office, but of pocketing it, is a mighty poor example to all public officials. But Mr. Truman never objected to that.

Yes, the idea spreads. Our officials on the United Nations staff go first class, too. They don't pay any income tax on their salaries at all. Not a dime. They contribute nothing to the support of the government they represent. They think the United Nations is grand. Spending tax money means nothing to them.

Well, the boys rushed the gravy to Truman, Barkley and Rayburn just in the nick of time, so they could go after "the gluttons of privilege" without worrying about their groceries. Three days later the Constitution would have stopped them cold. The men who wrote the Constitution had heard about using the power of public office for private gain.

A lot of dumb Republicans voted for it, but it will go down on the score board of the Democratic party so nobly dedicated to "equal rights for all! Special privileges for none!"

COMMUNICATION

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.
January 28, 1949

Editor Courier:
One of the first things I read when I arrive at my office each morning is the current issue of The Bristol Courier. Especially do I appreciate your editorials which I very often insert in the Congressional Record as I did the other day when I inserted your "The Year 1949". How I wish your timely editorials could be read by every man, woman and child throughout the nation as well as the world. They would indeed have a wholesome effect on their thinking. I am sending you copy of the Record for January 27 in which this editorial appears in the Appendix—page A-405.

May I take this opportunity to thank you for sending me your fine paper and commend you on the great work you are doing to enlighten the people. More power to you.

Cordially yours,
ROBERT F. RICH
Congressman of 15th District of Penna.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Ritchie Was Right

Washington, Feb. 3.

BACK in 1936, when the so-called New Deal had sufficiently developed to make its purposes clear, the late Governor Ritchie expressed the conviction that something had been started in this country which could not be stopped. The current Truman program with its supporting forces, in and out of Congress, attest the truth of that statement.

WHAT the Maryland Governor meant was that once a national administration instead of standing in the path of radical and unreasoning elements, organized and led them, opening wide the Treasury doors, casting aside moderation and restraint, buying political support with the people's money, then the direction could not be reversed. Once we gained impetus on the "tax, tax, spend, spend, elect, elect" track, we could not go back—we had to go forward. It seems impossible for thoughtful men to look at the present situation without concluding that we are headed for economic disaster. From the White House has come a score of recommendations for spending more money for new experiments and at the same time expanding the old ones in size and cost. If only a part of these are approved, the dangerous lopsidedness of the whole Federal fiscal structure will be greatly enhanced. Senator Harry Byrd, of Virginia, who knows this situation better than anyone else, predicts a $10,000,000,000 deficit for the year 1950-51. From the groups with which the Administration is politically linked—particularly the labor bosses—there is great pressure to go far beyond the President's proposals in the way of social security extension, compulsory health insurance, wage increases, food subsidies, etc.

LET the Administration indicate a desire to proceed along these lines (in accord with its reckless campaign promises) and it is almost irresistibly urged to leap and run, instead of walking and looking. An example is in the suggestion, inserted in the President's message, it is said on the advice of Mr. Leon Keyserling, one of his economic advisers, that the Government examine the possibilities of increasing steel production through the use of Government funds. Immediately a bill sponsored by three left-wing Democratic senators is presented to appropriate $14,000,000,000 for this purpose. Another example—the President's request for an increase in the minimum hourly wage is followed by a Senate proposal for a guaranteed minimum annual wage.

SO it goes all down the line and not the least significant thing is that Republicans are pressing hard for such proposals as well as the Democrats. Obviously, the Republican theory is that they have been regularly defeated because these great voting groups have been taken over by the Democrats; that this is due to the favor with which the Democrats have bought their support; that the only way for the Republicans to share in this support is to pay as high or a higher price for it. Accordingly, they insist that the Republicans must make their party "virile" by standing for "liberal, constructive and progressive" policies. So far, no one has thought of any such which does not appeal to one or more of these voting groups and does not increase the cost of government and the cost of doing business.

FROM neither the Administration nor the "modern" Republicans is there more than a perfunctory word about economy. It is interesting that neither any longer favors taxing anyone except the well-to-do; that the old idea once accepted by all as sound, that while the rich should always carry the load, every citizen, according to his means, should pay something toward the support of government in order that the nation as a whole should be tax conscious and economy minded, is now in the discard. There are, of course, a few in both parties who still hold to these notions and are not afraid either to voice or fight for them, but they have not been able to get far—certainly not far enough to reverse the direction—or even slow down the spending forces. Denouncing these men as reactionaries, small minded, backward looking, penny pinchers, concerned only with "property rights," disdainful of "human rights," not aware that anything has happened in the world since the Hoover Administration etc., etc., is the favorite—in fact, the only—answer to their insistence that unless some real effort is put on the brakes and recovery control of Federal finances is made at this session, it will be too late. Clearly, if we do not regain this control, all we can do is wait for the big bump which may or may not bring us back to our senses but certainly will be attended by great pain for us all.

SUCH is the view of many members of Congress and most of the better grade men in the Administration, none of whom, however, is doing—or intends to do—anything about it. The reasons are clear—both parties have gone overboard for the spending policies and the pressure groups in the belief that only through them can elections be won. Considering what they can contribute in the way of votes, there seems no political nourishment in the advocacy of economy, reduction, reason and restraint. No man will grow popular these days doing that. Apparently, that is the way to make enemies and lose friends. Apparently, it now takes more character and courage for a public man to face the facts and tell the truth than most of them possess. Only a few, like Senator Byrd, ever try it. Mr. James A. Farley got close to doing so in a New York speech a few days ago. Yet it is difficult to believe that if the men in both parties who think alike on this vital business were bold enough to put the national interests above their personal interests, they not only could arouse the country but influence their parties and get a response that would profit them politically as well.

Sixty Thousand Exist As Slaves In Russian Area

All approaches to the district are heavily guarded by Soviet troops and east zone police.

Russian officers with the green insignia of the NKVD ride the trains and armed police patrols check the papers of every passenger.

The full details of the atomic mines operations were disclosed to this correspondent by relatives of miners in a series of secret interviews.

About 8,000 of the men live in Zwiekau proper, the region's main railroad junction, others are kept in the nearby towns of Schneeberg, Zechopau, Annaberg, and Buchholz.

The uranium project is constantly growing, encompassing an ever widening circle of cities. During the past year and a half the number of miners has almost doubled.

There is a constant demand for new workers, and the Soviets have been forced to resort to outright kidnappings, as well as sentencing a large proportion of political prisoners to the mines.

The workers spend from six to eight hours a day traveling to and from the mines. They put in eight to ten hour shifts, and can use the remaining time for sleep, recreation and frequent sessions of political "orientation."

There are no holidays or vacations. The pay is low—about seventy five cents a week—and promised extra rations have not been forthcoming.

The laborers stand knee-deep in water-filled pits 150 to 250 feet underground. There are virtually no safety measures, and the accident and death rate is shockingly high. When a vein of ore is found the shaft is immediately enlarged and pushed further underground without necessary wooden props. As a result many of the workers spend most of their time in nothing more than crude swampy tunnels.

There is little way of estimating production, for as soon as ore is discovered the workers are immediately transferred and replaced. Whatever ore is recovered is assayed immediately at the mines.

If it contains pitchblende or any other radioactive substance it is dispatched under heavy guard to Russia, where it is refined.

Opportunities for escape are almost non-existent. The mines are under heavy guard, and the towns where the workers live are alive with endless patrols.

The uranium mines are only one part of Russia's gigantic slave-labor projects into which thousands of East Germans have been impressed.

Virtually every family has had at least one member arrested and summarily deported, without trial, on charges of "war crimes" or "anti-democratic" tendencies.

Most of these have been adults, but there have been a shocking number of young boys and girls seized, without explanation, three and four years after the war.

The deportees are not allowed to write, and most families never hear of their again.

But occasionally one escapes, or word somehow seeps out as to his fate.

From these sporadic reports it appears that most of the East German slave laborers have been sent to Eastern Siberia where they are forced to build factories and other installations for Russia's huge East Asiatic arsenal.

Adults and youngsters alike there work 16 to 12 hour shifts, with two inadequate meals a day.

A sentence to slave labor is the most common and the most feared punishment in East Germany today.

The Soviets seemingly use a quota system for the involuntary recruiting, with the Russian commandants of each district required to furnish a stipulated number of workers.

There are certain portents that this or that district will be next in line to meet the quota.

Complaints of "sabotage" and "espionage" are suddenly made, accompanied by warnings of drastic penalties if the practices are not immediately eliminated.

Then, in the dead of night, police

Guard, and the House passed and sent to the White House a bill extending to Sept. 30 voluntary allocation of scarce commodities.

Attorney General Clark advised a Senate committee that, despite the absence of specific authorization in the Administration's labor bill, the President had the power to seek injunctive relief in strikes affecting national health or safety.

plit Developing in General Assembly Over Recurrent Teachers' Pay Issue

ver the current two-year appropriation.

A measure expressing the official title of teachers on salary legislation will be introduced into the general assembly "very soon," according to PSEA officials.

The current mandated minimum wages from $1950 for teachers in second, third and fourth class districts to $2175 for those in first class (Philadelphia and Pittsburgh) districts.

Meanwhile, the first piece of legislation requiring the Governor's signature was sent to him's desk yesterday when the House concurred in a bill amending to a bill relating to salaries of more than 2,000 salaried employees. The increase, ranging from $600 to $1,500 for high-ranking employees and allows for higher operating expenditures.

The House also gave final approval to measures which would expedite prosecution of violators of the state's pure food laws. The bills covering as many different violations, proposed to make first violations summary offenses instead of misdemeanors. Violators could be haled before the minor judiciary instead of going through the courts.

Two measures introduced yesterday called for revisions to the 1947 sessions so-called "tax anything" law. One, sponsored by House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Harrisburg, proposed to submit all new taxes to a referendum vote except in the city of Pittsburgh.

Another, offered by Rep. J. P. Moran (D), Allegheny, would prohibit the 1947 law prohibiting discrimination in pay because of sex, while the other proposed a maximum 5 1/2 day work week for women, with a maximum 40-hour week and eight-hour day. Penalties of $5000 fines and five years imprisonment for bribery in sports contests were recommended in a House Bill sponsored by Democratic Reps. Louis J. Amaratunga, George T. Guarnieri, James J. Dougherty and Thomas Peta, all of Philadelphia. The measure is similar to another passed by the Senate and awaiting House action.

Cultural Pictures Lack Support, He Says

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 3.—Addressing the February meeting of the Village Improvement Association of Doylestown, Arthur H. DeBra, director of community relations department of the Motion Picture Association, said that "the reason more cultural pictures fail here is because we do not support them."

The subject of his talk was "A Motion Picture Dilemma." Mr. DeBra pointed out that it is essential to have good will between the theatre management and the public.

"I feel that the V. I. A. and other women's clubs can do much to improve this situation," the speaker declared. "We should form a committee to make reports on pictures and classify them in three groups—those for adults only, those for family groups and those suitable for children."

DeBra then said that the reports should be published in the local newspapers, and in that way, parents would not have to worry about their children seeing pictures which are unsuitable for them.

The guests speaker said that his organization has been working on the subject for the past 25 years, and reported that he felt that "at last they have achieved success."

"This has been accomplished," he said, "by showing new pictures to a group of children and allowing them to be the judges. Those pictures which are unsuitable are boring to the children, and they become restless and disinterested. The children are allowed to leave if they so desire, and often, many do leave. This group of children are known as 'The Wiggle Group.'"

Mr. DeBra said that the organization that he represents publishes "The Green Sheet," every two weeks. This pamphlet is available to the public for selecting good pictures.

The February meeting was held in the Swartzlander Community Building, at which time a financial report was submitted, showing fees of the Doylestown Emergency Hospital amounting to $8,879.65; Visiting Nurse fees of $151.90; hospital expenditures of $971.12; and Visiting Nurse expenditures of $308.

The Visiting Nurse report showed that the nurses had traveled 673 miles, in making 152 visits to 37 patients for 19 doctors. Three sessions of the Child Health Clinic were held and attended by 27 youngsters.

Announcement was made that June 9, 10 and 11 have been selected as tentative dates for the Bucks County Horse Show. Word is being awaited from the National Horse Show Association before the dates can be definitely announced.

The names of Mrs. Gilbert Lightcap and Mrs. David Burleson, were presented as new members.

Mrs. Fred Martin represented the V. I. A. at the meeting of the South-eastern District of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs in Philadelphia, recently, at which time Ellis Gimbel presented an award of $1,000 to the Delaware County Women's Club for its outstanding work.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Martin that the March and April programs have been reversed—that on March 1, in the Swartzlander Community House, the subject for discussion will be "Books," and on April 5, at the same place, there will be a panel discussion.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor
Tullytown Methodist Church

"Peace I leave with you." He did not mean national or social peace; for the world was as much disturbed then, as now. It was peace with God. Peace of mind, of heart bequeathed to those who believed, and followed Him. Was there the need then? Surely; and is always needed. Never more so than in this restless age. "Oh that thou hadst hearkened to My commandments, then hadst thy peace been as a river." "Come unto Me, all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Thy ways, O God, are ways of pleasantness, and all Thy paths are peace. May the peace of God which passeth understanding keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge, and love of God, now, and always. Amen

ST. ANN'S LOSES TO TRENTON TEAM BY SCORE OF 68-51

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 3.—Holy Cross Catholic War Veterans, leading independent team of Trenton, won its 18th victory in 21 starts last night on the Washington School floor with a 68-51 win over St. Ann's A. A. of the Bristol Basketball League.

Although Holy Cross won, the plaudits of the crowd went to "Johnny" Pinder, leading scorer of the Bristol circuit. Pinder, who filled in the gap of missing St. Ann's players, scored 32 points during the game with 13 field goals and six fouls.

Don Pugliese, one-time Rider College star, led the Catholic War Vets with 18 points and played a fine floor game. In the Holy Cross line-up was Coach "Johnny" Manczak who at one time played with the Hibernians in the Bristol League. Two former members of the Trenton Catholic High team, Frank Mitrosky and "Mike" Halasz, also aided the Veterans in their triumph. St. Ann's was trailing, 32-25, at the half-time mark after holding the Vets to a 11-9 first period score. The "Saints" scored ten more points in the third session and ended with 16 in the final ten minutes. Holy Cross had 12 points in the third quarter and scored 24 in the last canto.

The Precision-Mixed Way—Proven for 27 Years

For 27 years millions of housewives have used Flako Pie Crust Mix. They have never known pie-baking "ups and downs." They have never had to bother with measuring and sifting. They have simply added water to Flako; then rolled the dough and baked. And out of the oven have come light and flaky pies every time. Flako precision mixing does it. Plus the exceptionally fine quality of Flako's ingredients.

No other pie crust mix has pleased so many housewives and been proven by them for so long as Flako. Flako has many imitators. But there is no substitute for the quality and flakiness of Flako. And today, as always, Flako is America's largest selling pie crust mix.

You, too, can rely upon Flako. If you are a good cook, the quality of Flako's ingredients will give you results you'll be proud of.
